then following services, everyone enjoyed the special "cupcake cake" during fellowship time.

Everyone could sense the children's excitement as Board of Christian Ed members and volunteers helped outfit them upstairs as angels and shepherds, with their enthusiastic singing in the sanctuary, and at the Birthday Party for Jesus games in Fellowship Hall. Kids played a candy cane game, crafted ornaments, held an indoor snowball fight and destroyed a pinata prior to topping off the day with a pizza. Thank you to everyone who helped make this a fun day for all!

Flexibility Helped Make FBC Pageant Day a Success

We're a little late with the Pageant photos this year due to the timing of the January/February issue, but it's always refreshing to see the joyous holiday faces come alive on this special day.

With COVID precautions still with us, it took planning, re-planning, flexibility and adaptation to pull it off, but with everyone's cooperation, we were able to hold a special worship program on Sunday, Dec. 19.

Following a traditional service with Christmas carols and Advent candle lighting, the children helped close out the morning with their delightful voices. Joined by a smaller senior choir group, the Kids' Choir sang, Christmas Lullaby, Away in a Manger, Silent Night, We Three Kings and Go Tell it on the Mountain.

An adapted version of the Happy Birthday to Jesus Birthday Party commenced as a cake was rolled into the sanctuary. Pastor Jason gave a special message,

It was "angels in motion" upstairs prior to this year's Pageant activities.

FIFTEENTH ANNUAL FBC COMMUNITY
EASTER DINNER
APRIL 17, 2022
11:30 A.M. – 1:30 P.M.

Plans for the annual Community Easter Dinner are underway. This year's event will be a take-out/delivery only option. Many volunteers are needed in the following areas: day-before set-up; cooking; dishing up containers; deliveries, and clean-up. Contact Sharon Anthony to offer your services.

Contributions for Easter Flowers will be received in the Church office until Thur., April 7. Along with checks, please indicate for whom your gift is in honor or remembrance. A $10 donation is suggested. Please note any plans to take your plant home.

Linda Kennemuth is the contact person for our church PRAYER CHAIN. If you would like to be included in the circulation or if you have a prayer concern to share, please contact Linda at chico.lindy@gmail.com or 716-372-6878.

♪♪ EASTER SEASON IS A TIME FOR MUSIC♪♪

Following months of anticipation, the full Senior Choir and In One A-Chord Handbell Choir return to assist in leading our worship services. I have heard from many of you, expressing deep appreciation for the selections shared by 3:16 Praise & Worship, vocal soloists, small ensembles and our varied instrumentalists. You have also shared that you are eager to add the choirs back to our music rotation. Now is the time!

Bob Faulds, Organist and Handbell director, would welcome those interested, to give our Handbell Choir a try. They rehearse on Wednesdays at 7 pm. A basic knowledge of music is needed, but Bob is willing to work with beginner ringers!

If you enjoy music with a more contemporary feel, the 3:16 Praise & Worship Team invites you to join them. Both male and female vocalists, as well as instrumentalists (especially percussion and guitar) would be a welcome addition to this ministry. Talk to me or contact Jim Sorokes for more details.

If you enjoy choral music, this is the perfect time to join or return to the Senior Choir. All parts and skill levels are welcome (and needed!) at rehearsals on Thursdays at 6:45 p.m. in the Chapel. Not only will you enjoy the time of singing, fellowship, sharing and prayer with other believers...but your music will be a blessing to those who worship with us on Sundays.

Another good reason to reengage soon is the need to prepare for our upcoming Easter cantata. Plans are in the works to present a cantata of remembrance, reflection and rejoicing named "Is He Worthy?" This musical is full of meaningful narration and diverse musical selections. In addition to traditional favorites "Jesus Paid it All", "Were You There?" and "Christ the Lord is Risen Today", you'll be moved upon hearing more recent works by Chris Tomlin, Matt Maher, Gaither Vocal Band, Janet Paschal, and Matt Redman. All ages will be moved toward the cross and opened grave!

So please come out and give our musical groups a try. And if you can't be part of a group, be sure to make a joyful noise from the pew as you join in congregational music each week.

--'Sing'cerely, Sue NVB, Minister of Music

This will provide a safe environment for children from our community while providing fun and engaging activities throughout the day while taking a burden off of the parents. We are currently looking for volunteers to assist. ## LITERACY OF LOVE UPDATE

We concluded the year 2021 with thankfulness as we reflect our challenges and appreciate our blessings. We have a renewed vision of our hopes and dreams as we begin to see some of the fruits of our labor. We have walked through the desert, and God has led us to a river. Our eyes are on the horizon as our minds are ever grateful for the lessons and challenges we've overcome! Experience is the best teacher, so when we combine that with God's grace, our entire perspective has shifted to see clearer than ever!

Our mission is to create a ripple of change one child at a time. When we change the life of one child, we change a family's history, and we build a new generation. I spent six weeks in Uganda during July and August, and I returned for Christmas and New Year.

During the summer, due to continued school closures and travel restrictions, we decided to make home visits to the guardians of all our children. We traveled deep into villages and to remote areas including Tanzania. It transpired into a transformational experience for our families and for me. Our children come from a variety of backgrounds. Some from mud houses and no electricity, others from huge families led by a single parent. No matter the situation, the same picture was clear: Poverty. Over the last (nearly) two years, we've helped support families with food due to the dire situation caused by shutdowns. We made personal connections and developed relationships with all families, and it was powerful for our children. This had never been done before. Some kids hadn't returned home in years.

Our visit provided us an opportunity to develop a new perspective. Our children, no matter how young, are the hope their family has. Despite having nothing, the child represents a way out. It was once explained to me, "An African child's life is not his own." It's 100% correct. They grow knowing the weight of responsibility of their family. Elder siblings become caretakers and providers for younger ones. Then, they find ways to care for their parents and grandparents, too. Our children start out with nothing, and as they grow, the little they have is used to help others. It creates a nearly impossible scenario to improve. But, with your help, our Family of the Heart members have a chance to be the change and break the cycle! Your investment in a child's future changes lives – changes society – changes history – changes the future. May God bless the work we've joined hands to do. Your prayers, financial, and social support are essential to our future. We acknowledge the challenges and burdens, but we also share the joy of knowing that what we do truly does make a difference.

With Sincere and Heartfelt Thanks,

Cari Matejka, CEO

Missions Board Seeks Assistance with Hygiene Bags

For the second year, Olean First Baptist Church is collecting personal care items to include in hygiene kits for individuals and families who are a part of our food voucher program. This component of the ministry proved popular and helpful last year, so the Missions Board decided to keep it going.

FBC is seeking community and congregation assistance for donated items. Collection barrels have been distributed at various business sites and our lobby and will be available until March 31.

Needed items include the following: washcloths; toothbrushes; bar soap/body wash; toothpaste; women's and men's deodorant; shampoo & conditioner; men's razor and shave cream; first aid items/Band-aids; four-packs of toilet paper, Kleenex; pads/tampons; laundry detergent; dishwashing soap; hand sanitizer. For more information, see a Missions Board member (Sharon Anthony, Chair).

ABOUT THOSE PINK ENVELOPES IN THE PEW RACKS...

The funds collected through your donations using the pink envelopes are used to offer support to OFBC members with emergency needs. Perhaps the need is utility bills, a medical emergency, or groceries. We all experience unexpected financial needs from time to time. Your church family is here to help! Simply let a member of the Diaconate know if you need a helping hand. We'll do our best to be of assistance. So please take a moment, consider donating through the pink envelopes – it allows us to show the love of Christ to our members when they need it most!

THE PASTOR'S PAGE

Do you not know that your bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit, who is in you, whom you have received from God? You are not your own; <sup>20</sup> you were bought at a price. Therefore honor God with your bodies. (1 Corinthians 6:19-20)

Last month, I had a health scare. The symptoms were serious enough that my doctor told me to go to the emergency room. The worst-case scenarios were ruled out and I was diagnosed with Bell's Palsy, a harmless condition, which should resolve itself on its own and the symptoms have become less pronounced as the days pass by. The uncertainty of the condition was enough to get my attention and get me thinking about my health and what I need to be doing for the sake of my family and my ministry.

I have always been a bit lax about exercise and diet. I say to myself it is because I am always focused on the needs of others above myself, but in all honesty, that is a convenient excuse not to exercise. I need to reexamine how I view this kind of self-care. In 1 Corinthians 6:19-20, Paul reminds us that our bodies are temples of the Holy Spirit and that we are to honor God with our bodies. The Lord purchased me, body, mind and soul through the blood of Jesus Christ.

That does not mean our bodies, our temples of the Lord will ever be perfect. I can exercise and watch my diet flawlessly, but I will still face decline as I grow older. We all will face illness and one day the death of our earthly bodies, if the Lord doesn't return in our lifetime. Imperfect as our bodies are, we are called to use it, to minister with it to the glory of God above.

One person who shows this well is the artist and writer, Joni Eareckson Tada. When she was 17, she was paralyzed from the neck down due to a diving accident. She struggled with how, with a damaged body, she would ever live a meaningful life. But the gospel transformed Joni's life and she has spent the next 55 years choosing to serve God with her body, mind and soul. As she ministered to others, she found her body's disability was not a hinderance that God had to work around, but the very tool he chose to use to reach others in a meaningful way. She could have given in to despair, but instead she used her imperfect temple to bring others hope in the name of our Lord, Jesus Christ.

God will use us, as we are, but as we give our hearts to the Lord, we also need to honor him with our bodies. We, as I have had to these last few weeks, need to look at how are we honoring Him in the way we are respecting our bodies, our minds our souls. My body is a tool which God is using to care for others. I need to be sure I take the best care of it I can.

Your brother in Christ,
Pastor Jason

THE MODERATOR'S MUSINGS!

With so many topics to address, this edition of the Musings is broken up into four segments.

Topic 1 – For those who attended our first attempt at a Congregational / Corporate meeting on January 16th, I apologize for letting my frustrations and emotions get the best of me that day. I said things that would have been better left unsaid. I am sure some took offense to my comments. Let me be clear, I do appreciate those who made the effort to attend, and I do believe there are more positives than negatives at our church. Are we perfect? Far from it, but that does not give me the right to go on a rant as I did that day... especially in my position as Moderator. I am called to “foster understanding and harmony in the church.” I failed! Maybe it’s good that I am a “Lame Duck” Moderator and must step down at the end of this year.

Topic 2 – To the retired men out there and/or those not working during the day, if you have not started taking advantage of the Thursday Men’s Lunch at Perkin’s, you should. It is a wonderful opportunity to meet with other men from our church for food and fellowship. Pastor Millard, though retired, continues to lead that group, reading inspiring devotionals, raising prayer concerns, and offering a thoughtful prayer before the meal. The conversations before and after the meals are always entertaining, covering a wide range of topics such as sports, plumbing, gardening and other outdoor activities, woodworking, home improvements, reminiscing about people, places, and things, and, yes, even politics now and then. Give it a try! I think you will enjoy it. We begin gathering at 11:45AM Thursday and usually go our separate ways by 1:30PM.

Topic 3 – Significant progress has been made on transferring ownership of the old carriage house to the Olean Historical Society. An agreement has been reached between the church, the owners of the other half of the carriage house and the Historical Society. The paperwork has been signed by all parties and Tyler Threehouse, the attorney who is representing the church, will be filing the petition to the New York State Attorney General’s office. Once the Attorney General’s office approves, the transfer will be complete. This is expected to take 4 – 6 weeks. For those unaware, the Olean Historical Society plans to convert the carriage house into an Olean History Museum. Our church will keep accessto a small part of the building for storage. Special thanks to Matt Sage for leading the negotiations with the Historical Society.

Topic 4 – Returning to the Moderator’s role in fostering understanding and harmony, I must address issues that I believe are doing just the opposite. Recently, there has been unrest within our congregation related to COVID-19 policies, politics, and disagreements about how various things should be done at our church. These issues have led to confrontations between people, hostile exchanges on social media and the like. The passions associated with and wide-ranging perspectives on these topics are understandable, but, as believers in Christ, we should not react and/or respond in the same manner as non-Christians! We are not to conform to the ways of this world. We are to love our enemies. We are to turn the other cheek. We are to be peacemakers!! They will know we are Christians by our love, not by our sarcastic postings or angry outburst! We are to follow the guidance offered in Matthew 18: 15 – 18: “If a fellow believer hurts you, go and tell him—work it out between the two of you. If he listens, you’ve made a friend. If he won’t listen, take one or two others along so that the presence of witnesses will keep things honest, and try again. If he still won’t listen, tell the church. If he won’t listen to the church, you’ll have to start over from scratch, confront him with the need for repentance, and offer again God’s forgiving love.” (From The Message) I pray that we can work to mend relationships rather than tearing them down... find common ground rather than reasons to fight... unite rather than divide! “Blessed are the peacemakers, for they shall be called children of God.”

Your brother in Christ,
-Jim Sorokes

THANK YOU FOR YOUR PATIENCE ...AND GENEROSITY!

In January, we started a new relationship with Fox Financial as our bookkeeping/payroll service. This has allowed us to request reports in different formats. It also means we are starting over with all of our reporting. As your Boards and Committees meet, if you aren't getting reports like you have seen in the past, please let me know. The system that Fox uses does allow for custom reports.

For the month of January our pledges received were above or in line with our budgeted expectations in all funds. Thank you for your faithfulness!

Please note and be patient with the new system as there has been a delay in reimbursement with a new process for submitting these expenses. Forms are available in the Church office (rack beneath bulletin board). I would also ask that any requests related to church finances be put in writing and placed in the mail slot located in the church office. All requests will be reviewed during the week. I appreciate your grace and understanding during this time of transition.

Lucas and Jeremiah found a unique way to hurl indoor snowballs at delighted youngsters during the Birthday Party for Jesus games.

The Board of Christian Missions will be working year-round on goals for Operation Christmas Child, the Samaritan's Purse activity that provides gifts and the gospel to children throughout the world.

Missions Chair Sharon Anthony said that shoeboxes will be available in the church lobby anytime for those who wish to begin filling them now. Sometimes summer sales and back-to-school specials offer perfect items to share in a shoebox. Watch for posters in the lobby for ways to help FBC work toward the 2022 effort to spread the love of Jesus Christ.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY FACTS

- Why do we celebrate St. Patrick's Day on March 17? This date marks the day of St. Patrick's death in 461. St. Patrick established his first church in a simple barn.
- What is the real meaning of St. Patrick's Day? Those who celebrate its intended meaning would adhere to it being a traditional day for spiritual renewal.
- When was the first St. Patrick's Day Parade? The first was actually not in Ireland but in Boston in 1737. An "official" parade was held in New York in 1766. Ireland had its own parade in 1903.
- Who "invented" St. Patrick's Day? Luke Wadding, an Irish Franciscan friar was persistent in efforts to turn March 17 into a Feast Day.
- Was St. Patrick really Irish? He was not born in Ireland, but thought to have been born in Wales or Scotland. He is said to have been abducted at 16 and brought to Northern Ireland. When he escaped from slavery, he had a vision and from that day on began spreading the word of Christ.

Be Sure You're Ready for the Help You Ask For

(The following was in my files from my time in a Michigan newsroom.. The message is just as relevant today, especially since I've been asking God for help shedding holiday pounds I've put on!)

“Delight yourself in the Lord and he will give you the desires of your heart.” --Psalm 37:4

I was reading a book that encourages the conquering of food cravings by turning to God instead. In “Made to Crave” (now updated to a new title) author Lysa Terkeurst shows how to turn focus from food to God.

I was taking the book to heart, praying for the strength to resist temptation and one afternoon, I'd finished my lunch of half a tuna sandwich, cutting back from old habits of having a full sandwich, chips, a cookie and whatever other snacks I might have around to munch on through the day. While feeling pretty smug at my day's effort, a mid-afternoon craving hit. It had been a busy couple hours and I really wanted something to eat or drink. I saw a co-worker's take-out coffee cup, but thankfully, was able to talk myself out of a cappuccino.

A bit later, though, I marched to a nearby coffee shop anyway, telling myself I'd just buy a small bottle of orange juice. That's when I noticed the sole muffin in the case. Surely one small muffin wouldn't hurt my new plan.

Back at the office, I sat down and started to take the paper off the muffin. At that moment, I noticed the song playing on the CD player in my head, a song we'd sung at church with the praise band. “Be my everything,” the chorus goes. I tore another bit of paper. “Be my everything.” Almost off now. “Jesus, everything.”

It wasn't lightning from the sky, but I knew it was God's way of speaking to me. He'd done it before through music. It wasn't “I'll strike you down if you take a bite of that!” In fact, as the message hit home, I was smiling, because I could almost feel HIM smiling along with a reminder of my requests for healthier habits.

In my experience, it only takes a verse, or a phrase, a song lyric, or a word or two to leave a whole impression on my heart when I feel God is speaking to me. (The words almost always reflect wisdom from the Bible.) In this case, I felt like He was telling me, “If you want me to be your ‘everything’ and if you want to break your addiction to food, eating muffins in the afternoon is not the way to do it.”

I'd like to say I didn't eat the muffin, but I did. And as I ate, I contemplated the gentle teacher who used that moment of weakness to make me see what I was doing. It was like in Lysa's book, “Everything is permissible, but not everything is beneficial” (1 Cor. 6:12). We get to make choices. Jesus wasn't yelling at me, saying, “Don't do it!” But He planted the idea that if I was serious about overcoming poor habits and depending on Him to help me, I needed to make better choices.

People often view being in relationship with God as being ever-ready to face punishment of some kind, having to watch every step. But I've found being in relationship with the living God is joyful. He can be a delight, even as He teaches about serious issues.

Psalm 37:4 says, “Delight yourself in the Lord and he will give you the desires of your heart.”

Being in relationship with Christ IS a delight, and as we grow closer together, there is room for enjoyment and humor in the exchange—even when He provides a refrain from a song to remind me of what I said I wanted.
